The convergence of the requirements of NERC under CIP 013-1 and the new demands coming from both the White House BES Executive Order and DOE guidance has raised questions about liability and compliance mandates for utility supply chain professionals and the vendors/suppliers to the utility industry.

According to CIP 013-1 which begins October 1, 2020, utilities and 3rd party vendors must develop and implement a comprehensive supply chain risk management plan that includes NERC Senior Manager reviews and approvals for their 3rd party suppliers every 15 months.

This course will take a comprehensive look at these factors. It will address strategies to comply and provide guidance and mechanisms for continued compliance on any new requirements.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

- Gain a comprehensive overview of NERC CIP 013-1 and the history of NERC CIP standards and how they continue to impact utilities and the industry in general
- Discover what the specific regulations are, how they must be met and the process of approval
- Review how to prepare for the NERC 013-1 review by CIP Senior Managers
- Explore Managing NIST, NERC ISO & other frameworks
- Evaluate the Risk Ranking methodology
- Hear from an experienced legal practitioner who was a Senior Manager for the DOE General Counsel's office on the origins and implications of the White House Bulk Electric System (BES) Executive Order and resulting guidance and regulations promulgated by the Department of Energy
- Experience how a major worldwide vendor to the utility industry is handling its own internal CIP evaluations and what they are requiring of their own supply chain 3rd party vendors

EUCI is authorized by IACET to offer 0.9 CEUs for the course
